

POLO AWARENESS, GOODWILL AND GOOD DEEDS

Advancing all three is the mission of the Ladies Polo Auxiliary at the Las Colinas Polo Club

Back row: Kristi Cole (secretary), Jackie Dorbritz (historian), Lisa Stemaly (treasurer) Cheryl Odom, Liz Gleeson (vice president)
Front: Dena Miller (president & founder) and Chelsea Hilliard

Their early successes have been gratifying, but are "only the beginning," according to LPA President, Dena Miller.

Charity support, a fundamental LPA goal

Women of the Ladies Polo Auxiliary of Texas are typically involved in charity in their lives, so it's no wonder that charity support is a cornerstone of the LPA's mission.

The fledgling LPA organization got off to a great start in its charity support with their first event, Polo on the Midway, held October 8 of last year at the Santa Anita Polo Club in Oak Point, and benefiting Bryan's House, a children's AIDS/HIV organization in Dallas. With only three months of planning, the group organized an exciting array of activities, including a carnival, magic show and two polo matches-featuring the Catena Cup Classic.

Call, and call on, the LPA

In addition, the LPA is also intent on reaching out proactively, encouraging charities and charity sponsors to contact them about ways the LPA can assist their organizations while promoting the sport of Polo.

The women that came together in August, 2005 to found the Ladies Polo Auxiliary at the Polo Club at Las Colinas knew what they wanted to accomplish. Comprised of polo players, wives and fans, the group quite naturally wanted to promote and support the sport of polo and polo clubs in the state of Texas and spread their love of polo to new found audiences. One yardstick for success was to be a calendar filled with fun and exciting events that contributed to these goals. Equally important, they wanted to take advantage of their energies to build awareness for, and generate contributions to, a number of worthwhile causes.

Dena Miller presents Liz Gleeson with an award for being "2005 Most Outstanding Lady"

Please contact any one of the board members to let the LPA know what they can do for you!

Dena Miller-President
ladenamiller@comcast.net

Liz Gleeson-V.P.
johngleeson@msn.com

Kristi Cole-Secretary
kcole@the-coles.com

Lisa Stemaly-Treasurer
lisa.stamaly@sbcglobal.net

Jackie Dorbritz-Historian
Jackie@dorbritz.com

Kids at Play

